Readings for this day

Genesis 12: 1-4a In this simple story of God's call and Abram's response, God's mission to bless "all families of earth" begins. The story also establishes the metaphor of journey or pilgrimage as competent of obedience.

Psalm 121 The images of the psalm promise guidance and safety, especially for travellers: surefootedness, shade, and a sentinel who "won't fall asleep on the job."

Romans 4: 1-5, 13-17 Paul is concerned here to protect the sovereignty of God against the notion that our righteousness in any way prompts or controls God's actions. The "faith of Abraham" is an autonomous, gracious God.
